

Jakob Lenke

Red cross

Red Cross is the best charity of all. Red Cross helps people who are homeless and when people's homes are destroyed by flooding, hurricanes, ect. The east coast was hit hard by Hurricane Irene, and Hurricane Lee. That is the perfect situation for Red Cross.

Red Cross sets up where people are going to live if their homes are lost. If people's homes are repairable from a storm, Red Cross will absolutely will stop at nothing to repair it.

I was watching tv once and a Red Cross worker was on. He was crying a little bit about how many people lost their homes. He also said how much he would help them. Red cross are saving people's homes and lives as you read this. This is why Red Cross should get more donations.